WONDERS OF THE SEA DEPTHS.—The nether darkness, so far from being a lifeless waste, teems almost everywhere with creatures not only more fantastic but larger that their shallow-water cousins; and the paddler about rock-pools and tide sands at watering places will learn from this book that far away at sea are found sea monsters far bigger as well as far uglier and far more beantiful than were ever transferred to an aquarium. To give two instances, the Caprells, "the planutom shrimp," which may be found on seaweed, sitting upright like a moukey, holding on by his hind paws, and, with ghastly grimances, mesmerizing all passers-by with his fore claws, sits in like guise upon sponges a mile or two deep in the darkness—there, however, not a quarter of an inch, but three inches long; and the Nymphoma, sea spiders who crawl from under stones, and who, having no body to speak of, carry their stonnech, for economy of space, packed in long transches up the inside of each leg—are found in the depths of the Arctic sea, not half an inch, but two feet in diameter. WONDERS OF THE SEA DEPTHS .- The

A Party Little Custom in South Argica.—It was remarked, a few days since, that the deplorable war between the tribes of Bonny and Opoba in Africa had ceased. The treaty was ratified March I, and it wa, a joyous occasion. These jolly dogs have such odd, queerways of ratifying treaties that tenderheated people might object on humane grounds; but it is all funny, and they man well. One custom, called "chopping ju-ju," is especially comical. They take a good, healthy darkey, furnished by the vanquished party, and, with a siarp knife, draw a line—really a deep gast—from the crown of the head down the median line of the front of his body. Then they take axes and chop him in two halves, and the two package into the course of the head chief-tens they the two halves, into the course of the head down the median line of the front of his body. two halves, and the two reconciled chief-tains throw the two halves into the tains throw the two halves into the ocean. The tenebrious individual who was elected to the honor of this vivisection at the recent treaty, had been loafing around town a week before the chopping, knowing all the time he was to be chopped, but he was n't of a very emotional nature, and never lost a meal in that while week. that whole week.

JULE BULETTE.—The Sacramento Record has the following touching the mystery of the murder of Jule Bulette. A tery of the murder of Jule Bulette. A rumor is affoat in police circles that the mystery attached to the murder of one Jale Bulette, a woman of the town, murdered in Virginia City on the 20th of January, 1867, for which murder a Frenchman called Millican was hung on the 24th of April, 1867, will shortly be cleared up. Millican on the gallows declared that he had two accomplices in the deed, and suspicion points strongly to one party now in custody in this county for a minor offence. Sufficient is known of this matter to make it almost certain that the old adage, "Murder will out," is about to be verified in this case.

Frw are aware of the vast number of people that can be placed in a small space. When we speak of millions of men we are apt to picture to ourselves men we are apt to picture to ourselves an almost boundless mass of humanity; yet a million of people if standing together, each person occupying four pare feet, could be placed on a patch but little more than a third of a mile square. A square mile would accommodate 6.965,600. The whole population of the United States would hardly cover two miles and a haf square, and the population of the entire world could be saily accommodated on a tract twelve miles long and twelve wid-less in extent than some townships.

As some lady visitors were recently going through a penitentiary, under the escort of the superintendent, they came to a room in which three women were sewing. 'Dear me!' one of the visitors whispered. 'what vicious-looking crea-tures! Pray, what are they here for?' 'Because they have no other home. This is our sitting-room, and they are my wife and two daughters," blandly ane superintendent.

Norman teaches patience like a garden. You may go round and watch the opening bud from day to day, but it takes its own time, and you cannot arge it on faster than it will. If forced, it is only torn to pieces. All the best-results of a garden, like those of life, are slow but regularly progressive.

WHETHER YOU work for fame, for love, for money, or for anything else, work with your hands, heart, and brain. Say "I will." and some day you will con-quer. Nev.r let any man have it to say, "I have dragged you up." Too many friends hurt a man more than none at all. Grace Greenwood.

A LITTLE girl, who had great kindness of heart for all the animal creation, saw a hen prepairing to gather her chickens under her sheltering wings, and shouted earnestly: "O! don't sit down on those beautiful little birds, you great ugly, old rooster!"

Compositions often put in queer things "to fill out a column." Here is the latest: "Does not a young mother's beart leap 4th with joy when she beholds her darling's 1st 2th?"
